As the Year of Knowledge begins, we are opening registration for the 16th season of our "Tax Foundation Course". This is a training programme created by PwC Latvia experts that invites people with various backgrounds to become familiar with the Latvian tax system and learn how to apply taxes properly under the direction of highly qualified and experienced lecturers. This programme has been completed by more than 1,100 company representatives and individuals wishing to enhance their understanding and consolidate their knowledge of tax matters.

CEOs, accountants, financial and tax professionals, lawyers, consultants, HR officers and workers facing questions about legislation in their day-to-day work all want to make sure they are not missing any important amendments and are able to foresee potential risks early and get ready for change. So it's important to know how to navigate relevant resources, consider possible situations, and choose the best solutions.

Since the content of our Tax Foundation Course not only provides a foundation of theoretical knowledge but is based on practical examples and the lecturers' experience, the knowledge you gain in this training will have special value added in workshops where you fill in tax returns, study examples of payroll calculations and determine the place of supply of goods, with case studies of loans to related parties, bad debts, royalties, various exclusions, etc.

Our Tax Foundation Course lecturers are experienced PwC experts and qualified professionals who work with Latvian and international companies in various industries, take part in drafting and discussing new laws with government agencies, and are well-versed in Latvian and foreign tax systems.

To help our participants check their newly acquired knowledge during our classes, we offer a chance to take self-assessment tests. Afterwards, the lecturers will explain the correct answers and the participants will receive files with the right answers.

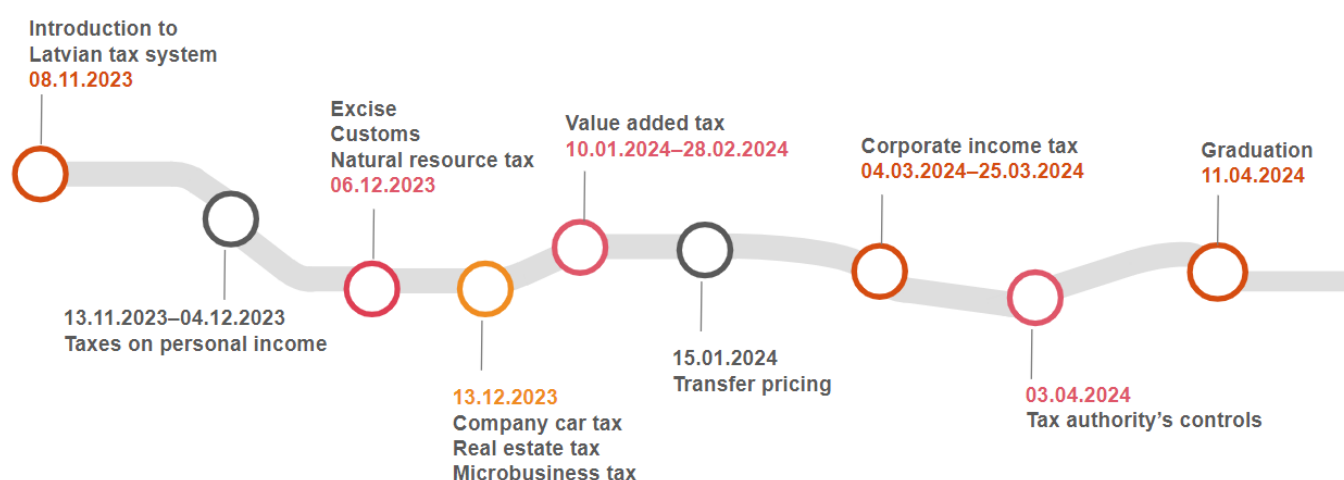

Our classes will engage you interactively with quick questions and answers, examples and case studies, etc. Participants will receive all necessary materials electronically and a PwC's Academy certificate on completing the full training programme or particular modules. We offer a chance to take exams on completing the modules "Taxes on Personal Income", "Value Added Tax" and "Corporate Income Tax".

Nowadays it's possible for everyone to gain knowledge at a convenient place and time. Being aware that our participants may be staying anywhere in Latvia or even abroad, we offer this training online. If you are unable to attend an online class, we will provide you with a video recording.

The training runs on Mondays or Wednesdays 14.00–17.30 and the language of instruction is Latvian.

An especially advantageous early bird offer expires on 13 October!

Our Tax Foundation Course participants have the option to complete the full course (12 modules) or pick particular tax modules.

Our past graduates have praised the quality of this training programme and how they can apply the newly acquired knowledge in their day-to-day work.

Your benefits from attending this programme include:

- Knowledge that will make you feel secure and confident about various tax matters
- A better understanding of the Latvian tax system as a whole and of its legal and accounting aspects
- Practical skills in applying taxes
- A chance to check your knowledge using tests
- Advice and answers from PwC tax experts on relevant topics during the training
- Easy-to-use training materials
- PwC's Academy certificate
- A chance for participants having completed particular modules in past years to continue training and complete the remaining modules
- Access to MindLink.lv, PwC's tax and business vortal, throughout the training
